Additional Information

Karis is more than a great volleyball player, she is humble, kind, encouraging, respectful, dedicated, and hard working. She makes everyone feel included and has a heart for younger players in the program. She often takes time out of her schedule to sit down and talk to underclassmen, encourage them, and help them in anyway she can. She plays the sport for others, and she is her teammates' biggest cheerleader. There isn't a selfish bone in her body.
